

built classrooms and other education-related structures and ran awareness-raising programs on the importance of education.(95-97) Burkina Faso continued to take part in the WFP Country Program (2011-2015) that promotes primary education and food security.(98) It also participated in a UNICEF-funded program to provide schooling to 5,000 child refugees in efforts to prevent the exploitation of refugee children.(99)

The Government of Burkina Faso has implemented or participated in social programs to address the worst forms of child labor in the production of cotton and in mining and quarrying, improving access to education and social services. However, research found no evidence that it has carried out programs to address the worst forms of child labor found in livestock raising, domestic service, forced begging, or street work.

Based on the reporting above, the following actions would advance the elimination of the worst forms of child labor in Burkina Faso:

Area	Suggested Actions	Year(s) Action Recommended

Reliable statistical data on the worst forms of child labor are especially difficult to collect given the often hidden or illegal nature of the worst forms. As a result, statistics on children’s work in general are reported in this chart, which may or may not include the worst forms of child labor.
